Will Gladstone resign? Is the question across the water since the defeat of the Premier's Irish Home Rule policy.

The rivalry between St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., is so great that each takes a new census every year. The new directories just out give St. Paul 43,598 and Minneapolis 49,270.

President Cleveland has replaced his French caterer with a regular old Virginia "mammy" as White House cook. Who says that this administration is not friendly to the colored race?

Mr. Powlerly, the Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, has consented to become the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. His friends predict this election by 40,000 majority over Beaver, Republican.

A newspaper reporter who was sent to Morehead by one of the Louisville dailies to report the Rowan county war, came very near having his brains shot out while riding a bicycle around the camp. The bullet struck the saddle of the bicycle.

Hugh M. Brooks, alias W. H. Lennox Maxwell, the murderer of Preter at St. Louis, has been denied a new trial and sentenced to be hanged Aug. 27, 1886. He will appeal to the State and United States Supreme Courts, but his case is almost without hope. He deserves to die like a dog.

Julio Winfree has been charging his opponent upon the stump for the last ten days with having been fined for suffering gambling on his premises and violating the liquor law while a magistrate. Esq. Anderson presented the affidavit of Wm. Donaldson that he rented a room from Winfree & Kelly to be used for gambling purposes and that Julio Winfree knew it. Judge Winfree has given affidavit that the charge is false; his partner, Mr. Kelly, has done the same and Esq. Sam Doss, a Republican who was on the grand jury, has made affidavit that Donaldson swore before that body that no gambling had been done in his room, which was rented for a sleeping apartment. Donaldson also denied that he knew of any gambling houses in the city. Other grand jurors have also made affidavit to the same. It begins to look like the next grand jury would have a case of perjury to look into.

One of the town Councilmen of Stanford, Ky., cut down some shade trees in front of his store because he was annoyed by people hitching horses to them. The Mayor of the town announces that he will prosecute the offending city father to the extent of the law for defacing the streets. In Hopkinsville the Board of Councilmen voted to cut down all trees on Main street, in the business portion of the city, and neither the fearful pleadings nor angry protests of property owners could avail anything, and the trees were all removed, excepting one or two small ones that are still under sentence and are liable to go at any time. It may be added that the streets of Hopkinsville are very narrow and no obstructions are allowed on them. Merchants are not even permitted to pile goods on the pavements and no projecting signs of any kind are allowed. The rigid enforcement of this ordinance has had some of the merchants to build their stores two or three feet back, so as to give a space for displaying their goods and wares on their own ground. Few towns and cities in Kentucky have their municipal affairs better managed than Hopkinsville.

The Congressional Race.

There are now five candidates for Congress already announced, viz: Lafoon, McKenzie, Hayscraft, Dixon and Adair. Five of the eight counties therefore present candidates. Webster, McLean and Hancock are the counties without candidates. It is more than likely that Dixon will pull off, leaving Henderson as one of the battle fields.

FROM DANVERS COUNTY.

The long agony is over, and the valiant efforts of the well-trained and disciplined henchmen of Mr. Lafoon to horn Mr. McKenzie off the Congressional track have come to naught, even the scheme last resorted to, of bringing out another candidate from his county, failing. Mr. McKenzie is announced by authority to-day as a candidate for Congress. His determination to make the race is the result of the most remarkable pressure from all parts of the district. For weeks and months he has been deluged with letters from every county urging him to become a candidate. This substantial encouragement, added to his natural desire to return to his old seat in Congress after four years of rest, during which his health and eyesight have been restored, has prompted him to again enter the lists and try his mettle on the old familiar track against the newcomers who have sprung up during his retirement. McKenzie's brilliant and successful canvasses in 1870 and 1878 against the most powerful opposition, gave him a great prestige in the district. His career in Congress and the fame he acquired as an orator, gave him a national reputation. This, with his personal magnetism, his depth of information, his rare conversational powers, and his happy faculty of remembering the name and face of every man he meets, will ever be a tower of strength to him in any political fight. We are informed that he will not commence his canvass until Congress adjourns, desiring to give Mr. Lafoon a perfectly fair chance in the race.—Owensboro Messenger.

Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie authorizes the Inquirer this morning to announce him as a candidate to represent the Second Kentucky district in Congress. Mr. McKenzie is so well known to the Inquirer's readers that no words are needed to tell the people who he is or what he can do. As our Representative in the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses he had ample opportunity to show his capacity for serving his constituents. As an eloquent orator he has time and again won flattering opinions from the public. As a campaigner he is hard to beat and his courage in this race will heat things up till Nebuchadnezzar's fiery furnace will resemble an ice chest in comparison.

He will not begin an active canvass of the district until after the adjournment of Congress, so as not to take any underfoot on Hon. Polk Lafoon, who is doubtless fretfully chafing under the restraints which keep him at Washington while so much sheet lightning is being put into shape against him. When McKenzie once gets back on the stump and feels his old strength and nimbleness awaking in life within him again, it will be time for everything in the fight to clear the decks for a terrific contest. This much is admitted even by Lafoon's strongest supporters.—Owensboro Inquirer.

The Late Rev. Thomas P. Dudley.

LEXINGTON, July 12.—The funeral of the late Rev. Thomas Parker Dudley took place this afternoon from the church of which he had been pastor. The deceased was the oldest Baptist minister in the State of Kentucky. He was of what they call the hard-shell particular Baptist. He was wounded at the battle of the Thames, in Ohio, in 1812, and was captured by the Indians. He was subsequently rescued by the whites, and then took part in the battle of New Orleans. Soon after this he accepted the charge of pastor of the Baptist Church at Bryant's Station, to succeed his father who had founded the church in the year of 1792. Though officiating regularly at three churches under his charge, Dr. Dudley being himself possessed of a competence, never asked for and never received a salary. His heart was in his work and he gave unstintingly of his time and labor to the cause of the Church.

The Correspondent of the Louisville Commercial sent to Morehead to report the war news this week was fired at from ambush Monday while riding a bicycle in the vicinity of the camp. One bullet struck the wheel under the reporter, which was the first thing that convinced him that the firing was not being done merely for "fun" by some of the "boys." The Correspondent expresses the opinion that he was mistaken for Craig Tolliver, and that the assassin was gunning for that worthy and distinguished law-breaker.

The Orphan Brigade will hold its annual re-union at Cynthiana Aug. 15.

On the 12th inst. Will Nash, a young man, was shot and mortally wounded by a young woman named Weeks, at Fulton. Nash went into a restaurant kept by the girl's mother and got into a fuss and caught Mrs. Weeks by the throat and began pushing her back. He then turned on the girl who had a pistol and she fired upon him, the ball entering his body in the region of the bladder. Nash had thrown her down and was standing over her when the shot was fired. His death is but a question of a few days.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail with addresser's stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

Nellie Grant's Married Life.

Boston, July 12.—A Washington special to the Herald says that a relative of the Grant family in that city is authority for the statement that the married life of Nellie Grant-Sartoris is far more unimpaired and unpleasant than has been made public. She lives with her husband's father in the North of England, where she is treated like a poor relation. She and her children have two rooms. Her husband, it is said, has not contributed to her support for years, and is now racing about England spending the meagre allowance received from his father. The story continues that for two years before Gen. Grant's death money was regularly sent to Nellie, and when he became impoverished his greatest regret was that he could not assist Nellie. The members of the Grant family who still contribute to the support of Mrs. Sartoris have long urged her to return to America, but Mrs. Sartoris will not listen to the proposition and protests that she will break with her family if these importunities continue.

KELLY'S KY.

July 12th, 1886.

Well, the weather is growing hot and the voice of the candidate is heard in the land telling the poor ignorant voters how much better he is than any one else.

On last Wednesday night the colored men had speaking at Kelly's Sta. Some of them made very creditable efforts. The burden of their song was: Vote the Republican ticket and especially vote for Ed. Glass.

Mr. J. F. Rogers is teaching the public school at Kelly's leaving the store in charge of his polite, accommodating and gentlemanly partner, Mr. Eddie Payne.

Messrs. George H. and James Long have built a splendid frame house for Frank Fuller. They are now going to build one for James Mills.

Messrs. Long know their business well.

Brother farmers, what do we want with a stock law in Christian county? There are a great many such farmers and renters in this county who cannot afford always to have a pasture and indeed cannot always get it if they could afford it. Then what are they to do? Have they not a right to own stock? North Christian has thousands of acres which is very good stock range and much of it is fit for nothing else. That is the poor man's pasture and the poor man's farm a fool who will vote away Mr. Edliff and kind readers permit me to drop Weaver and sign my original pen name of Rover.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain." There is quite a flourishing Sunday school at Vaughan's Chapel this summer. More interest is manifested than has been in any other school here for several years.

Miss Mollie Robinson, of Cedar Bluff College, returned home last Wednesday, after a few weeks' visit to Miss Emma Elgin. She was accompanied as far as Guthrie by a party of young people. They left Hopkinsville on Saturday morning, and after bidding Miss Robinson "good-bye" at Guthrie, returned the same evening at 8:50. Something of a sensation was created by their sudden return. Those unacquainted with the object of their trip, could scarcely be convinced that a "runaway" couple was not in the party.

Miss Lena Shaw, of the Fairview vicinity, is visiting friends and relatives in your city this week.

Mrs. Holton, of Murray, Ky., accompanied by her two daughters, Mrs. Cox and Miss Carrie, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Elgin.

Mr. Walter Elgin, who has been attending school in Bowling Green, returned home and has now gone to Dawson for his health.

The beautiful moonlight and pleasant nights of the past week have reminded the people that 'tis time for picnics, and the pleasure-seekers are ever ready to respond to such calls.

A violent wind-storm passed through this locality last Saturday afternoon, destroying the water-towers, felling trees, etc. It lasted several minutes, and during the latter part of it a tobacco barn, the property of Mr. W. H. Elgin, was blown over. No damage beyond the destruction of the barn was done, as all the tobacco had been removed about two weeks before. In some places this wind was followed by a hail-storm which continued from fifteen to twenty minutes. It is no frequent occurrence for Hail to be found at one or two houses in the neighborhood at any season of the year, but this is not of such short duration, nor has appearance so chilling.

Mr. Editor, a gentleman on going to Hopkinsville the 5th, and finding the banks closed, wants to know as the being on Sunday was not the day for "closing up," why it would not be an economy of time to celebrate the glorious Fourth in the cold weather of January or February when it is so unpleasant that farmers can not go to town, instead of July when they wish to collect the interest on their loans, and when the money, etc. Don't you think his a good idea?
